The War
Today..By DeWitt MacKenzie

RUSSIA'S denunciation of her neutrality pact with Japan is a momentous development which justifies the jubilation being expressed among the Allies.

True, this denunciation doesn't necessarily mean the Soviet union is going to war with Nippon. We should have learned by this time that we must wait for Moscow to call the turn. That is, the general public must wait. What Marshal Stalin may have confided to President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill is an unknown quantity.

However, the denunciation does mean the Soviet has cleared decks for possible action. It would be an easy step from this to actual war, especially since the Muscovites charge Japan has been aiding Germany against Russia—a patent truth, as Tokyo and Berlin are comrades at arms.

One very important aspect of the Russian move lies in its undoubtedly good effect on relations among the Big Three. It strengthens the partnership—a particularly happy circumstance in view of the approaching security conference in San Francisco, since that bids fair to produce problems which will call for all the good will that can be mustered.

Another immediate effect will be to make the Mikado's government face the old question of whether crime pays. Russia soon will be free of the European conflict, and if she turns her mighty striking power against Japan, along with that of Britain and the United States, it will be just too bad for the little men of Nippon. Add to this the fact that the official Japanese broadcasts don't even try to conceal the government's fear over the trend of the war, and you have something.

If Tokyo had any thoughts of seeking peace, this is the hour for the move. There may be significance in the fact that Russia's notification coincided with the fall of Warmoninger General Koiso's cabinet and the Mikado's designation of Admiral Baron Suzuki to succeed the general.

Glenn Babb, Associated Press foreign news editor who for many years was AP chief of the bureau in Tokyo, says Suzuki "may be the front man for a Japanese peace offensive." Babb points out that the baron belongs to the liberal group and wasn't identified with the militaristic clique which forced Japan into war against the United States.

The Russian earthquake comes when Japan is rocking from the shock of Uncle Sam's successful landing on big Okinawa island—an integral part of the Mikado's domains and only 325 miles from the mainland.

The Japs are more than scared. Both their fighting machine and their economic structure are going down hill fast. It would be natural if their thoughts did turn in the direction of peace.

The Japanese cannot overlook that the denunciation implies Russia is fully prepared for any eventuality in the Orient. It is unthinkable that Moscow would slap Tokyo down in such positive fashion unless the Soviet war potential in Siberia was in good shape.

If Russia comes into the Pacific war, or even if she remains passive but grants America and Britain Siberian bases from which to operate, it will shorten the conflict greatly. No wonder the Japs are flying distress signals.

JURY RECESSES
'TILL TUESDAY

County Gambling Investigation Will Enter Second Week

LISBON, April 6.—Columbiana county's jury continued its gambling investigation Friday morning when two East Liverpool reporters were called for questioning.

Another witness, John Earhart of Columbiana, was called, and there was speculation as to whether the jury was moving into Columbiana or whether there was some relationship between his testimony and the East Liverpool situation.

When the jury left the locked doors of the jury session, the jury announced it was recessing until Tuesday morning.

Earhart's appearance was believed to have some connection with East Liverpool gambling activities, however, because many witnesses summoned from East Liverpool had not been heard.

The jury's probe began Wednesday afternoon when it spent three hours interrogating three East Liverpool policemen.

Thursday's afternoon session began when Municipal Court Clerk Ralph McShane entered the closed session carrying municipal court records. His stay was brief, and the records were removed to Prosecutor Springer's office, where Mrs. Lillian Rogers, Springer's stenographer, was observed tabulating data.

The next witness, Elmer Wasson, commander of the Disabled Veterans' club, emphasized the explosive possibilities of the probe. Sheriff Hayes had gone to East Liverpool Thursday morning armed with a "John Doe" summons ordering the financial officer or other custodian of the club, which openly operates bingo on Walnut st., to appear with the records of the club.

Wasson was "sweated" by the jury for almost two hours.

Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans, Mayor Arnold Devine, Service Director Vincent J. McGeehan, city councilmen, policemen and other officials have not been notified when they will be called.

Even as witnesses were "in the dark" as to when they would be called, so were East Liverpool's gambling spots. Word reached Lisbon that most of the "spots" were darkened and that many proprietors had left the city.

House approval of a war resolution by a 373 to 50 vote a few minutes after 3 o'clock on the morning of April 6, 1917, put the nation into that conflict. The senate had adopted the resolution the night before by an 82 to 6 vote.

GOV. LAUSCHE SAVES WOMAN FROM CHAIR

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 6.—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today granted a 30-day reprieve to Johnnie Mae Gardner, Cincinnati Negro scheduled to die in Ohio's electric chair tonight for the slaying of a Cincinnati jeweler four days less than a year ago.

No reprieve was given her two male Negro companions. The governor told his press conference he wanted more time to study Miss Gardner's connection with the case.

She was convicted with James Willie Brown, 28, and Cook Jenkins, 24, for the holdup-slaying of Jacob Reinstadler, whose bludgeoned body was found behind a showcase in his store last April 10.

Miss Gardner, who would have been the second woman electrocuted in Ohio's first was Anna Maria Hahn in 1938—was given three previous stays of execution, all to allow appeals for clemency.

Pleas for commutation of Miss Gardner's sentence to life imprisonment were made to the governor yesterday by her attorney, by Miss Jane Hunter, president of the League of Colored Women's Clubs of Ohio, and by Norman McGee of Cleveland, who contended Miss Gardner, while technically guilty, did not actually participate in the slaying.

The governor referred to Brown and Jenkins only to assert: "The other two will die as scheduled."

Roy Hardman, also of Warren, was appointed agent-in-charge for the enforcement division of the Akron district, effective April 9, at salary of $3,600 a year. Hardman, who succeeds George Hinklin of Marion, has been probation officer and court bailiff of the common pleas court in Trumbull county since 1943. From 1943 to 1940 Hardman was sheriff of Trumbull county.

ALLIANCE FIRE LOSS $125,000

Blaze Destroys 2 Stores, Six Apartments In Mt. Union Section

ALLIANCE, April 6.—Fire yesterday completely destroyed the Stamp block, which includes the Ray Dye drug store, the Floyd Stamp variety store and six second floor apartments, and damaged the roof of the adjacent Mount Union bank at the corner of State st. and S. Union ave. Total loss was estimated at $125,000.

Fire Chief J. E. Held said the origin of the blaze, the worst in Alliance since 1931, was undetermined but it is believed it started in the basement of the five and ten store.

The fire destroyed the entire stock in both the drug and variety stores and destroyed all the equipment in an empty storeroom which was being prepared for a new business.

Three Alliance fire stations fought the blaze from 2:30 until 6 a. m. yesterday and a volunteer company from Sebring aided during the final two hours. Salem's department was alerted but was not called.

Apartments on the second and third stories of the building were burned and all the furnishings destroyed. Six families were homeless today.

Firemen planned to knock down the remaining walls today to avoid danger. The bank roof and a nearby restaurant roof caught fire several times, but diligent work by the companies saved these buildings.

A heavy fireball between the bank and the Stamp building prevented further damage to the financial institution.

Frost Damage Spotty In District Orchards

Ohio's peach and plum crops weathered a severe frost last night with but spotty damage, a check of fruit belt sources disclosed.

Temperatures hovered in the freezing range most of the night—dropping as low as 25 here and at Akron.

Days of recurrent warm weather earlier, however, were believed to have "budded" cherry, plum and peach crops sufficiently to prevent frost damage.

At Youngstown, W. L. Sherman, county farm superintendent, said some early peaches may be affected and added that ice forming on wet fields may affect some winter wheat.

Although full effect of the frost will not be known for some time, southern Ohio growers reported damage light and spotty, and believed the overall effect would be slight.

Mayor Announces Plan For City's Victory Celebration

Mayor R. R. Johnson announced today shop whistles will be blown when the official announcement is made that hostilities have ceased in Europe.

The mayor said arrangements had been completed for a public service of thanksgiving to be conducted by the Salem Ministerial association and for a special recognition assembly for children in every school building.

Paper throwing, parading and carousing will be "out of order" on V-E day, Mayor Johnson added.

He asked Salemites to celebrate European victory in a "quiet mood of thanksgiving and rededication to the war effort."

All clubs, both private and public, and taverns will suspend business and remain closed for the day.

If V-E day is announced before opening time, stores will remain closed all day. If between the hours of 9 a. m. and noon, stores will close as soon as possible and remain closed the rest of the day. If word comes between 1 p. m. and closing time, stores will close as soon as possible and remain closed the next day.

Rev. Robert Mosher, president of the Ministerial association, has arranged for a public service at 2 p. m. in the High school auditorium if victory is announced in the morning.

If the announcement comes in the afternoon, the service will be held at 8 that night. If a night announcement is made the service will be at 11 a. m. the next day.

The announcement will bring a prompt assembly of all school children, either morning or afternoon, and schools will be closed the following day. Supt. E. S. Kerr and principals of the schools have worked out brief but impressive exercises for each building.

Name M'Arthur-Nimitz Team To Conduct Tokyo Campaign

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur had "On to Tokyo" marching orders today, on the heels of Russia's denunciation of her neutrality treaty with Japan.

With the Pacific war thus portending possible startling developments, Allied military leaders were in agreement on the quickest way to end the fighting in Europe: Kill or capture Hitler.

Capitol Hill was quick to speculate that the Moscow decision is a forerunner to Soviet participation in the Pacific conflict once formal Nazi resistance ends.

This was the picture here today:

1. The joint chiefs of staff assigned MacArthur, together with

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, to command the final offensives against Japan.

2. Disclosure that Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, told the senate military committee that death or capture of Hitler would contribute tremendously to a collapse of the faltering Nazi military machine.

3. General belief among lawmakers that President Roosevelt had extracted from Premier Stalin at the Yalta meeting a promise that the neutrality treaty would be denounced and that Russia would enter the war against Japan.

4. Belief that Russia's action may smooth some of the rough spots out of the path of the United Nations conference at San Francisco April 25.

The joint staff, composed of top uniformed men of the War and Navy departments, decided that turning the full offensive power of the United States on Japan was a job to be directed by two men. Accordingly they announced last night that:

MacArthur will command all Army forces in the Pacific theater. Nimitz will command all naval forces.

Strategic direction (the broad plans for the war) will be retained

FIRM STARTS WORK ON RESERVOIR LINES

The Schulo Construction Co., of Akron has begun operations to lay approximately two and a half miles of water pipe to the site of the new 3,000,000-gallon water reservoir, south of the city.

The project, planned last fall and awarded the Akron concern on a low bid of $64,053 in December, is expected to be finished early in the summer. Work will then proceed on the reservoir itself.

City council will issue mortgage revenue bonds to cover slightly more than half of the cost of the construction. The balance will be taken from the water department funds.

Three Persons Injured In Route 30 Collision

Three East Liverpool motorists were involved in an accident two and a half miles north of East Liverpool on Route 30 at 10 p. m. yesterday.

A car driven by William Emmertling made a left turn on Route 30, going south, and was struck by a car driven by Edwin Orr, which, in turn, struck another auto driven by Frederick Vinal.

Vinal and Orr suffered lacerations and bruises of the forehead and a passenger in Vinal's car, Ann Vinal, received a bruised forehead and arm, state patrolmen said.

New Airborne Landing Near Berlin Heard

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, April 6.—The famous Hell on Wheels (Second) Armored division fought five miles past the Weser river today possibly to within 18 miles of Hannover while the British Desert Rats of the Seventh tank division closed to within 25 miles of that Prussian metropolis.

An unconfirmed broadcast by the official German news agency DNB said other American troops had been reinforced in "the area of Eisleben," 90 miles from Berlin.

This was 40 miles beyond last reported positions of the Third army at Schlieheim, 130 miles from the capital. There was no confirmation at Supreme headquarters of the operation, which the Germans suggested was by airborne forces.

"Light tanks have been landed from the air," the enemy agency said.

The tanks were said to be fanning out toward Arnstadt, Hameln and Muehlhausen, 55 to 100 miles behind Eisleben.

The United States Ninth army fought through the streets of Hameln on the Weser and walked through the vast railyards of the Ruhr city of Hamm, where resistance collapsed.

SOVIETS CLOSING PINNERS AROUND CITY OF VIENNA

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 6.—Two Russian armies sought to close a giant pincer around Vienna today as tanked Soviet storm units, knifing through a Nazi defense belt at the southern city limits, drove within four and one-half miles of the center of the Austrian capital.

Deployed along an 83-mile siege arc, the Russians were within 46 miles south of Tulln, 10 miles northwest of Vienna. The capture of Tulln would sever all Vienna's westward communications along the south bank of the Danube and also the main Vienna-Prague railroad.

Breaking across the Schwechat at Leising rivers, a canal and a network of suburban railroads and highways constituting a highly fortified defense belt, units of Marshal Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army battled to Vienna's southern city limits.

The suburbs of Ober-Laa and Unter-Laa were captured in the face of violent German fire. Two of Vienna's vital supply links with the war arsenals of Germany and Czechoslovakia were cut.

The Russians also battled into the outskirts of the industrial suburb of Schwechat, site of a big aircraft plant, captured Laxenburg and thrust a two to three-mile wide wedge through the Vienna woods. The old imperial Austrian castle is located in Laxenburg.

Southeast, east and northeast of Vienna, Marshal Malinovsky's second Ukrainian army surged forward along both banks of the Danube.

Elsewhere along the eastern front Soviet troops partially flattened a German bulge that had extended deep into eastern Slovakia, captured industrial Zvyc in southwestern Poland and seized Dolnja-Lendava, 56 miles northwest of the Croatian puppet capital of Zagreb in northern Yugoslavia.

The rest of tank and infantry divisions of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First army drove both east and west, Columns striking eastward from Paderborn reached Bruchhausen, four miles west of the upper Weser and 164 miles from Berlin.

Hodges' troops which moved in the opposite direction, drove into the Ruhr trap on a 70-mile front, seeking elimination of up to 150,000 Germans sealed off in the industrial basin for annihilation.

Three Miles From Dortmund
The Ninth army, like the First, was driving into the Ruhr trap as well as thrusting columns eastward into the heartland of the Reich. Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's troops fought within three miles of Dortmund in the Ruhr.

The First army advanced nine miles west into the Ruhr trap beyond Winterberg, where the 21 trapped enemy divisions were offering their most violent resistance.

Further south, other enemy troops were beating a retreat into Czechoslovakia before Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army. Only 58 miles separated this army from Czechoslovakia and a complete severance of north and south Germany.

Patton's troops, extended three fourths across Germany to within 70 miles of Leipzig, concentrated on consolidating gains and strengthening supply lines, mopping up such bypassed strongholds as Metzingen, reported defended by 8,000 Nazi and Hungarian troops.

Red Cross Drive 10 Percent Over Quota

Final report on the Red Cross War Fund drive shows a total of $35,756.21 in cash and pledges, Campaign Chairman Carl Willman announced today.

This is 10.3 per cent over the Salem quota of $32,300.

Chairman Willman was liberal in his expression of appreciation to those who gave and those who worked to make the drive such a complete success.

"Every worker did the job assigned to him and did it exceptionally well," Willman said today. "The results are ample evidence of this," he added.

WARREN MEN NAMED TO LIQUOR OFFICES

COLUMBUS, April 6.—State Liquor Director Robert M. Sohngen announced appointments of two Warren men in the liquor department today.

David M. Griffith of Warren, 27-year-old attorney, was named administrative assistant in charge of leases effective April 9. The salary is $3,200 a year. He succeeds L. C. Bliss of Columbus. Griffith is the son of Common Pleas Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Trumbull county.

Roy Hardman, also of Warren, was appointed agent-in-charge for the enforcement division of the Akron district, effective April 9, at salary of $3,600 a year. Hardman, who succeeds George Hinklin of Marion, has been probation officer and court bailiff of the common pleas court in Trumbull county since 1943.

From 1943 to 1944 Hardman was sheriff of Trumbull county.

ALLIANCE FIRE LOSS $125,000

Blaze Destroys 2 Stores, Six Apartments in Mt. Union Section

ALLIANCE, April 6.—Fire yesterday completely destroyed the Stamp block, which includes the Ray Dye drug store, the Floyd Stamp variety store and six second floor apartments, and damaged the roof of the adjacent Mount Union bank at the corner 6 State st. and S. Union ave. Total loss was estimated at $125,000.

Fire Chief J. E. Held said the origin of the blaze, the worst in Alliance since 1931, was undetermined but it is believed it started in the basement of the five and ten cent store.

The fire destroyed the entire stock in both the drug and variety stores and destroyed all the equipment in an empty storeroom which was being prepared for a new business.

Three Alliance fire stations fought the blaze from 2:30 until 6 a. m. yesterday and a volunteer company from Sebring aided during the final two hours. Salem's department was alerted but was not called.

Apartments on the second and third stories of the building were burned and all the furnishings destroyed. Six families were homeless today.

Firemen planned to knock down the remaining walls today to avoid danger. The bank roof and a nearby restaurant roof caught fire several times, but diligent work by the companies saved these buildings.

A heavy fireball between the bank and the Stamp building prevented further damage to the financial institution.

Frost Damage Spotty In District Orchards

Ohio's peach and plum crops weathered a severe frost last night with but spotty damage, a check of fruit belt sources disclosed.

Temperatures hovered in the freezing range most of the night—dropping as low as 25 here and at Akron.

Days of recurrent warm weather earlier, however, were believed to have "budded" cherry, plum and peach crops sufficiently to prevent frost damage.

At Youngstown, W. L. Sherman, county farm superintendent, said some early peaches may be affected and added that ice forming on wet fields may affect some winter wheat.

Although full effect of the frost will not be known for some time, southern Ohio growers reported damage light and spotty, and believed the overall effect would be slight.

Mayor Announces Plan For City's Victory Celebration

Mayor R. R. Johnson announced today shop whistles will be blown when the official announcement is made that hostilities have ceased in Europe.

The mayor said arrangements had been completed for a public service of thanksgiving to be conducted by the Salem Ministerial association and for a special recognition assembly for children in every school building.

Paper throwing, parading and carousing will be "out of order" on V-E day, Mayor Johnson added.

He asked Salemites to celebrate European victory in a "quiet mood of thanksgiving and rededication to the war effort."

All clubs, both private and public, and taverns will suspend business and remain closed for the day.

If V-E day is announced before opening time, stores will remain closed all day. If between the hours of 9 a. m. and noon, stores will close as soon as possible and remain closed the rest of the day. If word comes between 1 p. m. and closing time, stores will close as soon as possible and remain closed the next day.

If the announcement comes in the afternoon, the service will be held at 8 that night; if a night announcement is made the service will be at 11 a. m. the next day.

The announcement will bring a prompt assembly of all school children, either morning or afternoon, and schools will be closed the following day. Supt. E. S. Kerr and principals of the schools have worked out brief but impressive exercises for each building.

Name M'Arthur-Nimitz Team To Conduct Tokyo Campaign

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur had "On to Tokyo" marching orders today, on the heels of Russia's denunciation of her neutrality treaty with Japan.

With the Pacific war thus portending possible startling developments, Allied military leaders were in agreement on the quickest way to end the fighting in Europe: Kill or capture Hitler.

Capitol Hill was quick to speculate that the Moscow decision is a forerunner to Soviet participation in the Pacific conflict once formal Nazi resistance ends.

This was the picture here today: 1. The joint chiefs of staff assigned MacArthur, together with

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, to command the final offensives against Japan.

2. Disclosure that Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, told the senate military committee that death or capture of Hitler would contribute tremendously to a collapse of the faltering Nazi military machine.

3. General belief among lawmakers that President Roosevelt had agreed with Premier Stalin at the Yalta meeting a promise that the neutrality treaty would be denounced and that Russia would enter the war against Japan.

4. Belief that Russia's action may smooth some of the rough spots out of the path of the United Nations conference at San Francisco April 25.

The joint staff, composed of top uniformed men of the War and Navy departments, decided that turning the full offensive power of the United States on Japan was a job to be directed by two men. Accordingly they announced last night that:

MacArthur will command all Army forces in the Pacific theater. Nimitz will command all naval forces.

Strategic direction (the broad plans for the war) will be retained

ENTERING WRONG HOME AND WINDS UP IN HOSPITAL

Jesse Mercure of New Waterford is in the Salem Clinic today after mistaking a neighbor's house for his own early Thursday morning, losing his auto keys in the neighbor's house and becoming pugnacious about recovering them.

Mercure, who, deputy sheriffs said, was intoxicated and unable to recognize his own home, broke into the house, roused the sleeping residents—a 75-year-old man and his son, aged 45—and then became boisterous and threatened the pair.

The son and Mercure became involved in a fist fight and Mercure suffered several cuts about the face and head. He was taken to the Salem Clinic, where his condition is reported as fair.

Deputy Sheriff Howard Clark investigated the incident. Sheriff George Hayes refused to reveal the identity of Mercure's attacker. As yet no charges have been filed.

Bait For The Japanese

Whatever access the Japanese may have to reports of official discussion in the United States may lead them to some false conclusions about their chances in the war. Because what is being said officially in the United States is that the government is afraid of a national letdown after V-E day in Europe. That means, if it means anything, that the war with Japan will suffer—according to government authority.

This canard is one of the oldest chestnuts in circulation. But the Japanese, if they run across it, may not know that. Many Americans don't know it yet, even though they have been dealing with it in one form or another since before Pearl Harbor. They have been told by their government at every turn that they could not be trusted to do their part in the war.

They were blamed for all shortcomings. They were warned against a slump after D-day last summer—the day when millions of their sons marched into the jaws of death. They were blamed for taking literally the predictions of military men who told them to expect victory in Europe by the end of the year. They have been blamed for everything imaginable and a few things not imaginable. And now they are being blamed in advance for walking out on the Japanese war.

There is no reasonable explanation for this habit of mistrusting the people whose sons are fighting the war and whose taxes are supporting the government. It is something that has fixed itself on Washington and refuses to leave. The people have been told at every turn of the war that they were about to betray their own sons; they have suffered the insult in silence and replied with deeds. No doubt they will do it again, to the infinite surprise of the Japanese, who will be hoping for the letdown that Washington dreads.

Descent Into the Maelstrom

The war in Europe has ceased to unfold day by day as a pattern of planned events and become a series of bits of historic scenes thrown together in a breath-taking climax as Germany descends into the maelstrom.

It is obvious that the advances of the Allies in the west and Russian troops in the east and south are being slighted in news reports because of sheer inability of observers to do justice to their scope. Inside Germany, there is a cataclysm of unprecedented proportions which only can be hinted at in scanty reports of rumors filtering through censorship.

Even though all this was foreseen, the actual climax still presents a challenge to whatever poise has been developed in America since the beginning of spot news coverage about half a century ago. For the second time in a little more than a quarter of a century, Americans are privileged to watch the collapse of a major power in a military climax. In 1918 the final disintegration of Germany, as the event appears from this distance, was gravely misunderstood. In 1945, we may do better.

We may understand more of the implications of Germany's bid for dominance and its final failure. We may understand the implications of the Allied alliance which brought Germany to final defeat. We may understand the obligations of victors, as well as the penalties of losers. It is vastly more than a military decision that is in the making in Europe; it is a decision about the organization of human society not only in Europe but in every part of the earth. Germany's descent into the maelstrom is not an end, but a beginning, if the events of the hour can be put into their proper focus for the decades ahead.

Statistics Don't Tell the Story

The statistical fact that individuals have accumulated wartime savings in excess of $100,000,000,000 during the last four years means nothing, observed The New York Times recently, unless the composition of that stupendous total is properly analyzed. In other words, unless the government knows all the details of that hundred billion dollars' worth of savings, its stabilization plans must be made in the dark.

Another place where mere statistical information is useless, or worse than useless, is War Bond redemptions, closely related to wartime savings. In the first two months of this year redemptions rose to 346 per cent of total sales, from a previous high of 28 per cent in the last quarter of 1944. But the figure means nothing until it is broken down. Certainly it does not mean, as some prefer to believe it means, that individual holders of War Bonds are cashing them in for a spree. Some individuals, yes—but no generalizations are justified. Other individuals, caught between frozen wage levels and inflation, are being forced to contribute to inflation by cashing in government securities they would prefer to hold—a fact no government official is likely to stress, but nevertheless one of the increasingly important facts about the national stabilization program—one of many facts that must be known before any conclusions about anything so tremendous as the wartime savings of individuals can be reached.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, April 7

A DAY of sudden, unforeseen and unprecedented affairs, of radical and far-reaching importance, is presaged from major astral configurations. It is a time to be prepared for the unexpected, and this descending with breath-taking and whirlwind commotion. It is an uprooting visitation, affection, business, finance, domestic, professional, social and romantic life and involves intrigue, subtle adventures and dangerous contacts, perhaps accidents or experiences of a peculiar nature. In an upheaval or quick change as well as in critical situations, it would be well to adhere to rules and regulations.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by the unusual, unexpected, unpredictable and strange, in which a deep uprooting factor must be quickly dealt with, and with poise, sanity and preservation of codes and regulations. This in business, professional, social and romantic matters, as all aspects of living are concerned, and with profound significance.

Beware erratic, wild and impetuous acts as dangers, accidents and regrets are possible, from carelessness. Well directed emotions may climax in happy adventures and sensational romances, possibly dramatic and sudden.

A child born on this day will have exceptional talents and creative skills, with keen emotional impulses, which may assure a spectacular and dramatic life, of adventure, romance and renown.

Keeping Within Bounds

Some time ago the Brookings Institution began polling a group of prominent Americans to secure their definitions of that flexible phrase, "un-American activity." Now the Institution has completed a digest of those definitions and presented it to the House committee on Un-American Activities.

The definitions may be imperfect or incomplete. But we hope that the House committee will give them careful study and, if they don't like them, make up a list of their own. The important thing is that the committee should at long last define and limit the scope of its activities.

Under Martin Dies' chairmanship, the Committee on Un-American Activities conducted some wild-swinging and occasionally ridiculous witch hunts. The present membership can do much to erase the less proud pages of the committee's record by focusing its activities within reasonable and sensible bounds.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

What To Do About Sinus Infections

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

MANY persons who suffer from sinus infection have the notion that they have an incurable disorder, a chronic condition that can never be overcome. But this idea is false, because sinus infections can be cured.

During the Fall, Winter and early Spring those who suffer from sinus infections begin to have an increase in the severity of their symptoms.

There are all types of sinus infections.

In some instances the condition is an acute one. There are discharge from the nose, fever, headache and pain over the sinuses. There are also the chronic infections in which there is a discharge from the nose with little, if any, fever and not a great deal of pain. The material from the nose may drip into the throat causing a sore throat and coughing.

Seek Out Cause

When a person has a discharge from the nose it is necessary, of course, that an examination be made to determine the source of the trouble. X-rays are helpful in telling when the sinuses are infected. The physician as a rule will want to know the kind of germs which are producing the infection, because then he can decide just what treatment may be best.

For example, the sulfonamide drugs may be used in certain kinds of infection.

For acute sinus infections operations are not performed, as a rule. It is in these acute infections that the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin have in recent times been found of great value. In chronic infections operations are more often required. The use of penicillin together with the suitable surgical procedures, offers great hope for permanent cures.

Sinus infections are not without their dangers, unless properly treated, for there are certain complications which may be serious. For example, an infection of the bones of the skull known as osteomyelitis may occur. Then meningitis or inflammation of the lining membranes over the brain, may develop.

An abscess of the brain, an abscess in the eye socket and an infection in a large vein which leads from the nose may occur. Every possible effort must be made to keep these complications from occurring, and that means proper treatment of the sinus infection, so that it does not make too great a headway. In advanced cases treatment is more difficult.

Several patients who developed osteomyelitis of the skull, who formerly might have been expected to succumb to the condition, have been cured my penicillin.

Sinus infections should not be feared but they should be respected and not neglected. A physician should be consulted promptly when sinus symptoms first make their appearance and his advice should be conscientiously followed. In this way the dangers of sinus infections may be eliminated.

Tomorrow, Dr. Bundesen will discuss "Rabies."

DOG POUND

Editor, The News:

I see by The News that the city is contemplating a dog pound. Well, maybe one is needed. We used to have one years ago.

A gentleman who lives on West State st. used to be official dog watcher. He would get them by hook or crook, dogs of low and high degree, and put them in the pound, which was in the rear of city hall.

He had about a dozen one night, and when he went back to see his doggies the next morning they had taken Dutch leave. In the night the largest dog had tumbled out and, of course, the rest followed.

For a long time after that, so the story goes, when a dog passed the city hall it would pass on the other side of the street.

Lewis Says Resignations In Capital Bad Example

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The right of responsible officials to resign from key war assignments while workers are expected to stay on their jobs is questioned by Rep. Earl Lewis, Republican from St. Clairsville, O.

Hitting specifically at James Byrnes, who resigned as war mobilizer, Lewis said "resignations in high places will set a bad example for thousands of war workers who also would like to prepare for peacetime living."

Bait For The Japanese

Whatever access the Japanese may have to reports of official discussion in the United States may lead them to some false conclusions about their chances in the war. Because what is being said officially in the United States is that the government is afraid of a national letdown after V-E day in Europe. That means, if it means anything, that the war with Japan will suffer—according to government authority.

This canard is one of the oldest chestnuts in circulation. But the Japanese, if they run across it, may not know that. Many Americans don't know it yet, even though they have been dealing with it in one form or another since before Pearl Harbor. They have been told by their government at every turn that they could not be trusted to do their part in the war.

They were blamed for all shortcomings. They were warned against a slump after D-day last summer—the day when millions of their sons marched into the jaws of death. They were blamed for taking literally the predictions of military men who told them to expect victory in Europe by the end of the year. They have been blamed for everything imaginable and a few things not imaginable. And now they are being blamed in advance for walking out on the Japanese war.

There is no reasonable explanation for this habit of mistrusting the people whose sons are fighting the war and whose taxes are supporting the government. It is something that has fixed itself on Washington and refuses to leave. The people have been told at every turn of the war that they were about to betray their own sons; they have suffered the insult in silence and replied with deeds. No doubt they will do it again, to the infinite surprise of the Japanese, who will be hoping for the letdown that Washington dreads.

Descent Into the Maelstrom

The war in Europe has ceased to unfold day by day as a pattern of planned events and become a series of bits of historic scenes thrown together in a breath-taking climax as Germany descends into the maelstrom.

It is obvious that the advances of the Allies in the west and Russian troops in the east and south are being alighted in news reports because of sheer inability of observers to do justice to their scope. Inside Germany, there is a cataclysm of unprecedented proportions which only can be hinted at in scanty reports of rumors filtering through censorship.

Even though all this was foreseen, the actual climax still presents a challenge to whatever poise has been developed in America since the beginning of spot news coverage about half a century ago. For the second time in a little more than a quarter of a century, Americans are privileged to watch the collapse of a major power in a military climax. In 1918, the final disintegration of Germany, as the event appears from this distance, was gravely misunderstood. In 1945, we may do better.

We may understand more of the implications of Germany's bid for dominance and its final failure. We may understand the implications of the Allied alliance which brought Germany to final defeat. We may understand the obligations of victors, as well as the penalties of losers. It is vastly more than a military decision that is in the making in Europe; it is a decision about the organization of human society not only in Europe but in every part of the earth. Germany's descent into the maelstrom is not an end, but a beginning, if the events of the hour can be put into their proper focus for the decades ahead.

Statistics Don't Tell the Story

The statistical fact that individuals have accumulated wartime savings in excess of $100,000,000,000 during the last four years means nothing, observed The New York Times recently, unless the composition of that stupendous total is properly analyzed. In other words, unless the government knows all the details of that hundred billion dollars' worth of savings, its stabilization plans must be made in the dark.

Another place where mere statistical information is useless, or worse than useless, is War Bond redemptions, closely related to wartime savings. In the first two months of this year redemptions rose to 34.6 per cent of total sales, from a previous high of 28 per cent in the last quarter of 1944. But the figure means nothing until it is broken down. Certainly it does not mean, as some prefer to believe it means, that individual holders of War Bonds are cashing them in for a spree. Some individuals, yes—but no generalizations are justified. Other individuals, caught between frozen wage levels and inflation, are being forced to contribute to inflation by cashing in government securities they would prefer to hold—a fact no government official is likely to stress, but nevertheless one of the increasingly important facts about the national stabilization program—one of many facts that must be known before any conclusions about anything so tremendous as the wartime savings of individuals can be reached.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, April 7

A DAY of sudden, unforeseen and unprecedented affairs, of radical and far-reaching importance, is presaged from major astral configurations. It is a time to be prepared for the unexpected, and this descending with breath-taking and whirlwind commotion. It is an uprooting visitation, affection, business, finance, domestic, professional, social and romantic life and involves intrigue, subtle adventures and dangerous contacts, perhaps accidents or experiences of a peculiar nature. In an upheaval or quick change as well as in critical situations, it would be well to adhere to rules and regulations.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by the unusual, unexpected, unpredictable and strange, in which a deep uprooting factor must be quickly dealt with, and with poise, sanity and preservation of codes and regulations. This in business, professional, social and romantic matters, as all aspects of living are concerned, and with profound significance.

Beware erratic, wild and impetuous acts as dangers, accidents and regrets are possible, from carelessness. Well directed emotions may climax in happy adventures and sensational romances, possibly dramatic and sudden.

A child born on this day will have exceptional talents and creative skills, with keen emotional impulses, which may assure a spectacular and dramatic life, of adventure, romance and renown.

Keeping Within Bounds

Some time ago the Brookings Institution began polling a group of prominent Americans to secure their definitions of that flexible phrase, "un-American activity." Now the Institution has completed a digest of those definitions and presented it to the House committee on Un-American Activities.

The definitions may be imperfect or incomplete. But we hope that the House committee will give them careful study and, if they don't like them, make up a list of their own. The important thing is that the committee should at long last define and limit the scope of its activities.

Under Martin Dies' chairmanship, the Committee on Un-American Activities conducted some wild-swinging and occasionally ridiculous witch hunts. The present membership can do much to erase the less proud pages of the committee's record by focusing its activities within reasonable and sensible bounds.

Gone are the old—and more particularly, the young—familiar faces from the big league baseball scene. But as another wartime season is about to commence, the sports pages bring us at least one nostalgic reminder of the good old days—eight managers in each league have assured the world that their team will finish in the first division.

What To Do About Sinus Infections

By HERMAN N. BUNDSEN, M. D.

MANY persons who suffer from sinus infection have the notion that they have an incurable disorder, a chronic condition that can never be overcome. But this idea is false, because sinus infections can be cured.

During the Fall, Winter and early Spring, those who suffer from sinus infections begin to have an increase in the severity of their symptoms.

There are all types of sinus infections.

In some instances the condition is an acute one. There are discharge from the nose, fever, headache and pain over the sinuses. There are also the chronic infections in which there is a discharge from the nose with little, if any, fever and not a great deal of pain. The material from the nose may drip into the throat causing a sore throat and coughing.

Seek Out Cause

When a person has a discharge from the nose it is necessary, of course, that an examination be made to determine the source of the trouble. X-rays are helpful in telling where the sinuses are infected. The physician as a rule will want to know the kind of germs which are producing the infection, because then he can decide just what treatment may be best.

For example, the sulfonamide drugs may be used in certain kinds of infection.

For acute sinus infections operations are not performed, as a rule. It is in these acute infections that the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin have in recent times been found of great value. In chronic infections operations are more often required. The use of penicillin together with the suitable surgical procedures, offers great hope for permanent cures.

Sinus infections are not without their dangers, unless properly treated, for there are certain complications which may be serious. For example, an infection of the bones of the skull known as osteomyelitis may occur. Then meningitis, or inflammation of the lining membranes over the brain, may develop.

An abscess of the brain, an abscess in the eye socket and an infection in a large vein which leads from the nose may occur. Every possible effort must be made to keep these complications from occurring, and that means proper treatment of the sinus infection, so that it does not make too great a headway. In advanced cases treatment is more difficult.

Several patients who developed osteomyelitis of the skull, who formerly might have been expected to succumb to the condition, have been cured my penicillin.

Sinus infections should not be feared, but they should be respected and not neglected. A physician should be consulted promptly when sinus symptoms first make their appearance and his advice should be conscientiously followed. In this way the dangers of sinus infections may be eliminated.

Tomorrow, Dr. Bundsen will discuss "Rabies."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DOG POUND

Editor, The News:

I see by The News that the city is contemplating a dog pound. Well, maybe one is needed. We used to have one years ago.

A gentleman who lives on West State st. used to be official dog wacher. He would get them by hook or crook, dogs of low and high degree, and put them in the pound, which was in the rear of city hall.

He had about a dozen one night, and when he went back to see his doggies the next morning they had taken Dutch leave. In the night the largest dog had tumbled out and, of course, the rest followed.

For a long time after that, so the story goes, when a dog passed the city hall it would pass on the other side of the street.

Lewis Says Resignations In Capital Bad Example

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The right of responsible officials to resign from key war assignments while work is expected to stay on their jobs is questioned by Rep. Earl Lewis, Republican from St. Clairsville, O.

Hitting specifically at James Byrnes, who resigned as war mobilizer, Lewis said "resignations in high places will set a bad example for thousands of war workers who also would like to prepare for peacetime living."

XXVII
DESPERATELY Xavier took out his gun. He pointed at my stomach. I had a clear view of the small black hole in the muzzle that seemed to touch my flesh. Then came a report so loud that it filled the room like the blast of a coast-defense gun.

Xavier's pistol was pointed at the floor. He tried to raise it. An amazed look crossed his face and the gun dropped from his fingers. Then I heard Booker's voice.

"Xavier," he said dully, "you led with your right." The little round man opened his mouth, put his hands to his side, and slumped gently to the floor. I saw a wisp of smoke curling ceilingward from the muzzle of Booker's gun.

Booker looked at me sorrowfully. Then he cocked an ear. I heard remote sounds. Someone running over wood—a dock or a pier. A distant shout. Booker pulled down the brim of his hat.

"Trent, I'm leaving. You can explain this better than I." He paused at the door. "But I didn't kill Phineas Hudson. Killing without reason is stupid."

And with this strange bit of moral philosophy he left me.

Booker had saved my life. But it was the dogged devotion to duty of Simms that led to my discovery. The policeman had got his coffee from Simms in the kitchen. Simms had looked in on me to see if I needed anything, had found the library empty, gone to the window and seen Booker and Xavier putting the limp form that was Nicholas Trent into a car. Simms called the policeman who had managed to commandeer a cruising cab and keep us in sight until he lost the trail on the avenue by the docks. The gun-shot brought him back on the scent and not a half minute after Booker's departure, he found me. And Xavier's body.

I was taken to headquarters.

When Marks heard the story, he ordered the detail doubled at Louisburg Square, and accompanied me back to the house.

"You seem to be the focal point," he said.

Eric Woolf was just coming down the steps when we arrived. He was all Homburg and pin-stripe respectability.

"But, Nicholas," he was very facile. "I've just been in to offer condolences. Miss Pat was too ill to see me."

"She's too ill to see anybody," I said shortly.

"I understand," Eric looked at Marks.

"This is Inspector Marks," I said. "Mr. Woolf. He was one of the party at The Ledges."

"How do you do, Inspector?" Eric looked at the scars on my face. He smiled. "What happened?"

"Mr. Woolf," Marks said, "we've been looking for you."

"For me?" Eric's eyebrows rose.

Marks nodded.

"Questioning," he said. "We have talked with everyone else."

"Is it something about Mr. Hudson's death?" Eric asked.

"We call it murder," Marks replied.

When it was all over, we crept away with willing reluctance, got in the big black limousine, and drove home.

Pat had gone to her room. I sat in the library with Elijah Hudson, who looked disconcertingly like his dead brother. He had just shaken his head and said, "Why on earth should anybody want to kill Phineas?" when Pat reappeared.

"Nick," she said, "I'd forgotten something."

She held up a little ivory elephant.

"I don't know how it could have slipped my mind," she went on. "At the time I thought I'd never forget it."

"Forget what?" I asked.

"It was last Tuesday when I had that talk with father. I was not to think it odd or to be alarmed, he said, and it was very important."

"Yes?" I stared at the ivory elephant.

"He said if anything should happen to him. If—" Pat shook her head and closed her eyes. "He should—die, I was to place this in the family monument in the little crypt beneath the pillars."

"That doesn't sound like your father," I said.

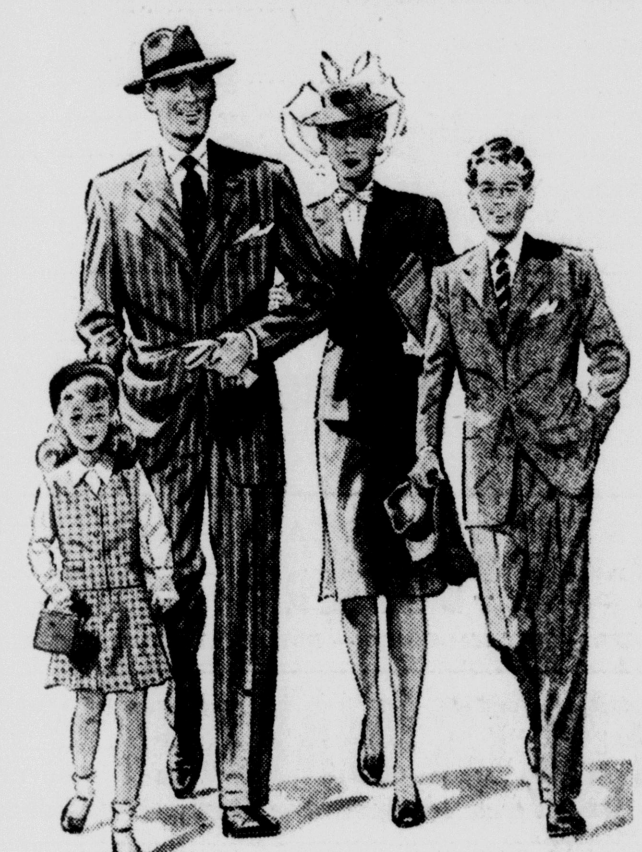

"Nothing that Phineas has said for the past few weeks has sounded like him," said Elijah Hudson.

"I was to go there alone," Pat said, "and to say nothing about it to anybody."

I reached out and took the figure from her. "You've already had more than you can stand. I can take it down and place it exactly as your father wished it. Were there any other directions?"

"No," Pat shook her head. "He merely said to be sure to say nothing about it to anyone."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's news to me, Judge. From the way some people talk you would think it was at least 50%."

"No, Clem, there's the statement right here in the paper... from authorities who have made an exhaustive study of the subject. Only about 5% of the people who drink occasionally abuse the privilege... 95% drink sensibly."

"No wonder you say it wouldn't be fair to take the privilege away from the other 95%, Judge. I agree with you."

"I can't see it any other way, Clem. No more than I could see taking automobiles away from everybody because a few drive recklessly and have accidents. Or preventing the making or sale of cake or doughnuts because some folks eat too much and get indigestion."

"In the case of spirit beverages, the answer is one of education and better control."

"As a matter of fact, the responsible members of that industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want folks to abuse the use of their product any more than we do."

"But, of course," Eric said. "Anything I can do." He looked back at me. "Nicholas, you must take care of yourself."

With that he left. Marks looked after him narrowly. He said: "So that is Mr. Woolf."

"He hasn't by any chance a record?" I asked hopefully.

"Not a blemish," Marks replied. "A man with so good a record and so bad a face needs watching."

We were back in Louisburg Square after the funeral. We had stood in the cold and rain at the little burial ground in Sandy Point where the first Hudsons had ended their careers in the India trade. I was not three yards from the tall granite monument that marked the grave of every Hudson who had died for the past 250 years. I remember looking at it and marking its ostentatiousness.

When it was all over, we crept away with willing reluctance, got in the big black limousine, and drove home.

Pat had gone to her room. I sat in the library with Elijah Hudson, who looked disconcertingly like his dead brother. He had just shaken his head and said, "Why on earth should anybody want to kill Phineas?" when Pat reappeared.

"Nick," she said, "I'd forgotten something."

She held up a little ivory elephant.

"I don't know how it could have slipped my mind," she went on. "At the time I thought I'd never forget it."

"Forget what?" I asked.

"It was last Tuesday when I had that talk with father. I was not to think it odd or to be alarmed, he said, and it was very important."

"Yes?" I stared at the ivory elephant.

"He said if anything should happen to him, if—" Pat shook her head and closed her eyes. "He should—die, I was to place this in the family monument in the little crypt beneath the pillars."

"That doesn't sound like your father," I said.

"Nothing that Phineas has said for the past few weeks has sounded like him," said Elijah Hudson.

"I was to go there alone," Pat said, "and to say nothing about it to anybody."

I reached out and took the figure from her. "You've already had more than you can stand. I can take it down and place it exactly as your father wished it. Were there any other directions?"

"No," Pat shook her head. "He merely said to be sure to say nothing about it to anyone."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's news to me, Judge. From the way some people talk you would think it was at least 50%."

"No, Clem, there's the statement right here in the paper... from authorities who have made an exhaustive study of the subject. Only about 5% of the people who drink occasionally abuse the privilege... 95% drink sensibly."

"No wonder you say it wouldn't be fair to take the privilege away from the other 95%, Judge. I agree with you."

"I can't see it any other way, Clem. No more than I could see taking automobiles away from everybody because a few drive recklessly and have accidents. Or preventing the making or sale of cake or doughnuts because some folks eat too much and get indigestion."

"In the case of spirit beverages, the answer is one of education and better control."

"As a matter of fact, the responsible members of that industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want folks to abuse the use of their product any more than we do."

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 6.—Stocks generally acted a bit better in today's market although caution was the watchword pending more Russian-Japanese developments and a clearer picture of the war in Europe and the Far Pacific.

Advances were well distributed near the fourth hour, losers were plentiful and numerous issues moved in either direction.

It was argued by some bulls that, even if the Japanese and Nazis fold together, business transition troubles may not be too severe and peacetime prosperity would keep earnings and dividends at a high level.

Supported were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Eastern Air Lines, Omnibus Corp., Texas Co., North American, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Rubber, Dow Chemical, Chrysler and Eastman Kodak. Laggards included Great Northern, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, American Can and Sears-Roebuck.

Theater Owner Ends War Against National Curfew

TOLEDO, April 6.—Jack O'Connell's one-man war against the national amusement curfew is ended.

The owner of the downtown Loop theater announced last night his movie house henceforth would close at midnight in observance of the curfew—which he had disregarded since March 19.

O'Connell made the announcement following a meeting with officials of the AFL-Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Operators, who previously threatened to call out the Loop's projection machine operators if he persisted in his policy of all-night shows.

O'Connell obtained a temporary injunction restraining the alliance from withdrawing the Loop's post-midnight operator, but Common Pleas Judge Harvey G. Straub yesterday rejected his application for continuance of the order.

Fuel Shortage Hits Nazis
LONDON, April 6.—The gas supply to all Berlin homes is to be cut off and electricity is to be drastically reduced because of a shortage of coal, a German radio announcement said today.

12 GERMAN SHIPS SUNK IN AIR RAIDS

LONDON, April 6.—At least 12 German warships and merchant vessels, including a cruiser and eight submarines, were sunk and many others were damaged in the recent RAF and American air attacks on Bremen, Hamburg and Wilhelmshaven, U. S. Strategic Air Force headquarters announced today.

The light cruiser Koeln was listed as sunk in the Wilhelmshaven harbor. Seven submarines were sunk at Bremen. One U-boat was sunk in the raids on Hamburg, the command announced.

The raids were carried out by fleets of planes numbering as many as 1,400 heavy bombers.

by the joint chiefs of staff. The nature of a specific operation (whether essentially sea or land) will determine which man directs it.

The announcement spoke of "the large forces to be redeployed from Europe" and the "rapid advances" up through the Southwest and Central Pacific "which have brought us into close proximity with the Japanese homeland and the China coast."

One effect of the directive apparently was to remove the Navy from MacArthur's sphere of command.

Gen. H. H. Arnold retains exclusive control of his 20th Air Force, operating agency of the B-29 fleets. Other units of Arnold's air forces, however, are under MacArthur.

The Moscow announcement did not make clear immediately whether the U.S.S.R. considers its treaty with Japan ended nor whether the non-aggression pact runs for another year to its original maturity rate. In any event, many in official circles believed the Russians would strike when they felt the situation most propitious.

Sharing the belief that Mr. Roosevelt extracted a twin promise from Stalin at Yalta, administration supporters advanced this as a probable reason why the president promised to back a Soviet demand for three votes in the proposed World Peace League assembly.

TREASURY RECEIPTS

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Position of Treasury April 4: Receipts $165,567,403.95; expenditures $249,459,604.63; net balance $14,187,639.61; working balance reduced $13,955,752,857.77; receipts fiscal year (July 1) $35,023,878,403.97; expenditures fiscal year $74,520,402,876.94; excess of total receipts $39,496,047,227.07; total debt $235,015,512,744.75; decrease under previous day $824,206.42.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 6.—Stocks generally acted a bit better in today's market although caution was the watchword pending more Russian-Japanese developments and a clearer picture of the war in Europe and the Far Pacific.

Advances were well distributed near the fourth hour, losers were plentiful and numerous issues moved in either direction. It was argued by some bulls that, even if the Japanese and Nazis fold together, business transition troubles may not be too severe and peacetime prosperity would keep earnings and dividends at a high level.

Supported were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Eastern Air Lines, Omnibus Corp., Texas Co., North American, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Rubber, Dow Chemical, Chrysler and Eastman Kodak. Lagards included Great Northern, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, American Can and Sears-Roebuck.

Theater Owner Ends War Against National Curfew

TOLEDO, April 6.—Jack O'Connell's one-man war against the national amusement curfew is ended.

The owner of the downtown Loop theater announced last night his movie house henceforth would close at midnight in observance of the curfew—which he had disregarded since March 19.

O'Connell made the announcement following a meeting with officials of the AFL-Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Operators, who previously threatened to call out the Loop's projection machine operators if he persisted in his policy of all-night shows.

O'Connell obtained a temporary injunction restraining the alliance from withdrawing the Loop's post-midnight operator, but Common Pleas Judge Harvey G. Straub yesterday rejected his application for continuance of the order.

Fuel Shortage Hits Nazis

LONDON, April 6.—The gas supply to all Berlin homes is to be cut off and electricity is to be drastically reduced because of a shortage of coal, a German radio announcement said today.

21 GERMAN SHIPS SUNK IN AIR RAIDS

LONDON, April 6.—At least 21 German warships and merchant vessels, including a cruiser and eight submarines, were sunk and many others were damaged in the recent RAF and American air attacks on Bremen, Hamburg and Wilhelmshaven, U. S. Strategic Air Force headquarters announced today.

The light cruiser Koeln was listed as sunk in the Wilhelmshaven harbor. Seven submarines were sunk at Bremen. One U-boat was sunk in the raids on Hamburg, the communiqué announced.

The raids were carried out by fleets of planes numbering as many as 1,400 heavy bombers.

by the joint chiefs of staff. The nature of a specific operation (whether essentially sea or land) will determine which man directs it.

The announcement spoke of "the large forces to be redeployed from Europe" and the "rapid advances" up through the Southwest and Central Pacific "which have brought us into close proximity with the Japanese homeland and the China coast."

One effect of the directive apparently was to remove the Navy from MacArthur's sphere of command.

Gen. H. H. Arnold retains exclusive control of his 20th Air Force, operating agency of the B-29 fleets. Other units of Arnold's air forces, however, are under MacArthur.

The Moscow announcement did not make clear immediately whether the U.S.S.R. considers its treaty with Japan ended nor whether the non-aggression pact runs for another year to its original maturity rate. In any event, many in official circles believed the Russians would strike when they felt the situation most propitious.

Sharing the belief that Mr. Roosevelt extracted a twin promise from Stalin at Yalta, administration supporters advanced this as a probable reason why the president promised to back a Soviet demand for three votes in the proposed World Peace League assembly.

Columbiana County Fire Wardens Guard Against Grass, Brush Fires This Year

The Ohio Division of Forestry believes that $30,000 is too great a price to pay for the privilege of unrestricted burning of grass and brush, according to Forester Elbert A. Schory of New Philadelphia, who is in charge of forest protection in eastern Ohio.

This is the conservative estimate placed on the damage suffered last year in District 3, which covers approximately two million acres in eastern Ohio.

One hundred thirty-one acres of woodland were burned in Columbiana county in 1944 and this would have been much greater had not the local fire wardens checked the fires. Wardens fought at least 13 different fires last year. Brush burning, railroads, and smokers are the chief causes of fires in this area.

Liability Is Stressed
Attention is called to the fact that the person who starts such a fire is personally liable for any damage that is done. The state law also places restrictions on the starting of fires out of doors and states among other things that an adequate fire line must be plowed around the area to be burned or other precautions taken to keep it under control.

Burning permits are also required during the months of March, April, May, October and November in the so-called forest area. In Columbiana county this includes the southern half of the county.

The public is asked to cooperate in preventing this needless destruction of our resources and to assist in the suppression of fires that do get out of control by reporting them promptly to the nearest forest fire warden.

During the fire months listed above southern Columbiana county is flown daily by airplanes to spot forest fires. When the pilot sees a fire, he drops a message to the nearest fire warden who has the responsibility of summoning sufficient help to put out the fire. The fire warden has authority to require the services of any persons available.

Commissioner Emswiler, "Mose" Hole Head Dinner Program

FULL EVENING IN STORE FOR SPORTS FANS

Emswiler, Hole to Speak At Salem Boosters Banquet For Quaker Cagers

A full program of sport entertainment — featuring H. W. Emswiler, commissioner of Ohio High school athletics and Ernest "Mose" Hole, veteran mentor of Wooster college cage teams — is on tap for the Quaker basketball team and local sports fans at the Memorial building at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Then, as they do annually, the Salem Booster club will honor the Salem High school basketball team. Coach Bob Miller and his squad, which won 17 of 21 games this year, will be guests.

Looming as the largest cage banquet ever sponsored in Salem, the affair has numerous sidelights. Commissioner Emswiler, appointed to head the Ohio High School Athletic association last summer, is making his first official visit to Columbiana county.

Coach Hole, a native of Salem and the son of Willis R. Hole, N. Elkworth ave., will be making his first appearance here in the role of speaker.

Hole has turned out some of the nation's best basketball teams in his time and although the war has curtailed Wooster's athletics now, several years ago the Scots were considered among the top teams in Ohio.

Hole produced the famed shooting artist, Nick Frascella, several years ago, when his team won 20 of 22 contests, losing only to Mount Union and an Indiana school.

Hole himself starred in basketball and football at Wooster and returned there to coach.

Emswiler, formerly principal of Columbus Central High school, was a coach in Columbus for a number of years and later was a Central Ohio official. He played both basketball and football when in High school and college.

In response to a request from the Salem players themselves, Boosters have arranged for platters of turkey with all the trimmings.

Tickets for the affair are going well and Art Brian, club secretary, said a group of about 100 is expected. Tickets may be obtained from Brian, Joe Kelley, Don Beattie and Jim Prim in the downtown section, while other representatives have them for sale in the various shops.

Commissioner Emswiler will arrive in Salem Monday evening, will attend a Kiwanis dinner for the Columbiana basketball team Monday and will spend Tuesday in Salem.

The High school athletic staff, Supt. E. S. Kerr and Principal B. G. Ludwig will entertain Emswiler at dinner Tuesday noon and Track Coach Fred Cope will show him the Reilly field athletic setup later.

INDIANS HAVE NEW REGULAR BACKSTOP

Jim McDonnell, With Club For Two Years, Will Blossom Out

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 6.—The Cleveland Indians' No. 1 catcher is slight but competent, Jim McDonnell, 23-year-old Detroit Irishman. Manager Lou Boudreau named Jim the Tribe's topman behind the plate yesterday and the cocky lad declared:

"I've always been confident I could catch 100 games or better for the Indians."

Boudreau said the pitchers have confidence in McDonnell and "He calls his signals well."

No Weight Worry
Jim, who stands five feet, 11 inches and weighs 165 pounds, commented: "Everyone's been worrying about my weight although I've tried to make it clear I never vary more than a pound or two no matter how many games I work."

The Tribe acquired Jim from Wilkes-Barre a couple of seasons back. He appeared in 20 games for the Indians, batting .233.

The Tribesmen hold their last lengthy spring practice session today. Saturday they will leave for Indianapolis to play a three-game series with the American Association Indians.

COLUMBIA DEFEATS FOURTH ST. IN 1ST LEAGUE PLAYOFF

Two Will Meet In What May Be Final Game At Memorial Monday

"Amid all the school spirit, color of a big time contest and spurred on by the efforts of a large cheering section and cheerleaders the Columbia Street cagers marched to a 29-25 victory over Fourth Street in the first of a best of three Mickey McGuire loop title series. Faced by Peters and his 15 points the Columbians turned the jinx that has bothered them all season and defeated the Fourth Street outfit, winner of the first and third rounds in league play, to take the edge in the all-important championship playoff.

Play Monday
The next game is booked for Monday evening. Joe Kelley, league manager and official, said today should Columbia capture that contest they will be officially champions of the six-team loop.

REV. BEACH TELLS OF EISENHOWER'S LIFE AT BANQUET

Columbiana Quintet Honored At Dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Coppock

Rev. Eugene Beach, pastor of the First Christian church of Youngstown, last night entertained the Columbiana Clipper basketball team with the life story of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower at a banquet given for the team by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Coppock, proprietors of the Coppock's Dairy store, E. Main st., Columbiana.

Rev. Beach presented the biography of the Allied commander in chief with emphasis on the theme that no one can predict in a man's youth what he may make of himself in later life.

Tracing the general's life from his early youth as a farm boy near Abaleen, Kans., until he was appointed to head the combined operations of the United Nations in Africa, Rev. Beach pointed out that the Kansan was only an average student through High school, was 94th in a class of 160 at West Point and had tended to lean more to social activity than to study while in the Army training school.

Made Own Way
School officials predicted he would only rank as an average soldier—a good one, but not exceptional. Rev. Beach said hard, tedious hours of study in later years while on military assignments earned Eisenhower his promotions and eventually won him his present status.

"Hard work, whether it comes in school or in later years, is the telling factor in a man's success," the Youngstown minister said, "and no one can tell when that work will appear. A man can find himself in early life or maybe when he is near middle age and then and only then will he prove his real worth in the world."

Fred Detwiler, funeral director, acted as toastmaster and introduced Rev. Beach along with High School Principal Edgar Miller and Coach John Cabas. Walter Schuck of Youngstown and Don Beattie of Salem were guests.

Mrs. Coppock, when asked to speak, said the banquet "came from her and her husband's hearts" and was given for "their boys."

The store is a "hangout" for High school students and pictures of nearly every Columbiana boy and girl in service adorn the walls. This is the third year the Coppocks have entertained the Clipper teams at the close of the season.

Indians To Have Tough Looking Pitching Crew

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 6.—The Cleveland Indians will have what looks like the most imposing pitching staff in the big leagues this year.

Manager Lou Boudreau announced yesterday he plans to carry nine and possibly ten hurlers on the squad—Jim Bagby, Paul Calvert, Red Embree, Steve Gronck, Ed Klieman, Alie Reynolds, Pete Cener, Al Smith, Mel Harder, if he rejoins the team and either Earl Henry or Hal Kline, who are battling it out for the No. 2 southpaw berth.

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A Texas sports scribe suggests it would be smart and profitable for the major leagues to sponsor a High school baseball tournament in each state every year. The big leagues, he says, could underwrite the expenses for, say eight regional winners to journey to the state finals and could put up suitable trophies. They could have scouts and instructors at each meet and possibly pick up prospects. Otherwise school authorities would run the show. Red Trauman can tell you it isn't as easy as that. The American association head, chairman of baseball's High school committee, has acquired more than one headache trying to help school ball. The schools, it seems are a bit touchy about the eligibility of their boys and the possibility that pro teams will grab the kids before they finish their education.

SOCKO

A Carolinian who prefers to remain anonymous, sends this one: "Maybe John L. Lewis will call off the coal strike if many more miners go to the University of North Carolina to play football for Carl Snively. The Tar Heels will be loaded with coal weather." Wonder if he means the coal bins won't be loaded—or that there's an underground movement to give Snively some material?

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Izzy Mattes, Louisiana Boxing commissioner, recently was appointed a colonel on the staff of Governor J. H. Davis. The fight mob there now claims Mattes is on a par with New York's Col. Eddie Egan. Al Grenert, N. Y. U. basketball player trying out with the Red Sox, set a college record of 307 points last season. He'll be okay if he can hit the same figure in the majors.

Bill McKechnie Discovers, Hard Way, Value Of Aged Pitchers To His Red Staff

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 6.—Deacon Bill McKechnie found out the hard way he could count on two 41-year-old pitching veterans, Hod Lisenbee and Guy Bush, to help his Cincinnati mound staff.

The Deacon loaned the pair of oldsters to Chicago's Cubs yesterday for an exhibition and they shut out the Reds, 5-0, scattering seven hits in a seven-inning contest.

It was noted without any display of feeling by McKechnie that player Chuchio Ramos of Venezuela has stated he does not intend to return to his native country.

Other training camp news: Cleveland Indians—Mickey Rocco arrived in camp.

Chicago White Sox—Jimmy Dykes listed eight potential starting pitchers; arrival of Johnny Humphries and Joe Orenco boost squad to 37.

Detroit Tigers—Moving to Terre Haute today for four-game series with White Sox starting Sunday.

St. Louis Browns—Luke Sewell named Sig Jakucki to hurl opener of city series against Cardinals Saturday; Al Lamonechia impressed in 3-1 victory over Toledo farm hands.

Commissioner Emswiler, "Mose" Hole Head Dinner Program

FULL EVENING IN STORE FOR SPORTS FANS

Emswiler, Hole to Speak At Salem Boosters Banquet For Quaker Cagers

A full program of sport entertainment—featuring H. W. Emswiler, commissioner of Ohio High school athletics and Ernest "Mose" Hole, veteran mentor of Wooster college cage teams—is on tap for the Quaker basketball team and local sports fans at the Memorial building at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Then, as they do annually, the Salem Booster club will honor the Salem High school basketball team. Coach Bob Miller and his squad, which won 17 of 21 games this year, will be guests.

Looming as the largest cage banquet ever sponsored in Salem, the affair has numerous sidelights. Commissioner Emswiler, appointed to head the Ohio High School Athletic association last summer, is making his first official visit to Columbiana county.

Coach Hole, a native of Salem and the son of Willis R. Hole, N. Ellsworth ave., will be making his first appearance here in the role of speaker.

Produces the Best Hole has turned out some of the nation's best basketball teams in his time and although the war has curtailed Wooster's athletics now, several years ago the Scots were considered among the top teams in Ohio.

Hole produced the famed shooting artist, Nick Frascella, several years ago, when his team won 20 of 22 contests, losing only to Mount Union and an Indiana school.

Hole himself starred in basketball and football at Wooster and returned there to coach.

Emswiler, formerly principal of Columbus Central High school, was a coach in Columbus for a number of years and later was a Central Ohio official. He played both basketball and football when in High school and college.

In response to a request from the Salem players themselves, Boosters have arranged for platters of turkey with all the trimmings.

Tickets for the affair are going well and Art Brian, club secretary, said a group of about 100 is expected. Tickets may be obtained from Brian, Joe Kelley, Don Beattie and Jim Primus in the downtown section, while other representatives have them for sale in the various shops.

Commissioner Emswiler will arrive in Salem Monday evening, will attend a Kiwanis dinner for the Columbiana basketball team Monday and will spend Tuesday in Salem.

The High school athletic staff, Supt. E. S. Kerr and Principal B. O. Ludwig will entertain Emswiler at dinner Tuesday noon and Truck Coach Fred Cope will show him the Reilly field athletic setup later.

INDIANS HAVE NEW REGULAR BACKSTOP

Jim McDonnell, With Club For Two Years, Will Blossom Out

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 6.—The Cleveland Indians' No. 1 catcher is slight but competent, Jim McDonnell, 23-year-old Detroit Irishman. Manager Lou Boudreau named Jim the Tribe's topman-behind-the-plate yesterday and the cocky lad declared:

"I've always been confident I could catch 100 games or better for the Indians."

Boudreau said the pitchers have confidence in McDonnell and "He calls his signals well."

No Weight Worry

Jim, who stands five feet, 11 inches and weighs 165 pounds, commented: "Everyone's been worrying about my weight although I've tried to make it clear I never vary more than a pound or two no matter how many games I work."

The Tribe acquired Jim from Wilkes-Barre a couple of seasons back. He appeared in 20 games for the Indians, batting .233.

The Tribesmen hold their last lengthy spring practice session today. Saturday they will leave for Indianapolis to play a three-game series with the American Association Indians.

REV. BEACH TELLS OF EISENHOWER'S LIFE AT BANQUET

Columbiana Quintet Honored At Dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Coppock

Rev. Eugene Beach, pastor of the First Christian church of Youngstown, last night entertained the Columbiana Clipper basketball team with the life story of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower at a banquet given for the team by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Coppock, proprietors of the Coppock's Dairy store, E. Main st., Columbiana.

Rev. Beach presented the biography of the Allied commander in chief with emphasis on the theme that no one can predict in a man's youth what he may make of himself in later life.

Tracing the general's life from his early youth as a farm boy near Abaleen, Kans., until he was appointed to head the combined operations of the United Nations in Africa, Rev. Beach pointed out that the Kansas was only an average student through High school, was 64th in a class of 100 at West Point and had tended to lean more to social activity than to study while in the Army training school.

Made Own Way
School officials predicted he would only rank as an average soldier—a good one, but not exceptional. Rev. Beach said hard, tedious hours of study in later years while on military assignments earned Eisenhower his promotions and eventual victory won him his present status.

"Hard work, whether it comes in school or in later years, is the telling factor in a man's success," the Youngstown minister said, "and no one can tell when that work will appear. A man can find himself in early life or maybe when he is near middle age and then and only then will he prove his real worth in the world."

Fred Detweiler, funeral director, acted as toastmaster and introduced Rev. Beach along with High School Principal Edgar Miller and Coach John Cabas. Walter Schuck of Youngstown and Don Beattie of Salem were guests.

Mrs. Coppock, when asked to speak, said the banquet came from her and her husband's hearts and was given for "their boys."

The store is a "hangout" for High school students and pictures of nearly every Columbiana boy and girl in service adorn the walls. This is the third year the Coppocks have entertained the Clipper teams at the close of the season.
